The Northern Illinois District of the United States Postal Service wishes to thank you for your continued patronage. We hope you find this booklet informative and useful with your everyday mailing needs. This booklet was prepared by the Consumer Affairs Department of the Northern Illinois District which encompasses the delivery areas of the following zip codes: 600, 601, 602, 603, 610 and 611.

The Northern Illinois District is composed of three Processing and Distribution Centers (P&DC). The first in Carol Stream, IL. which handles all the processing and distribution of mail for post offices located in the 601 and 603 zip code areas. The second in Palatine, IL. which handles all the processing and distribution of mail for post offices located in the 600 and 602 Zip Code areas. The third in Rockford, IL which handles the processing and distribution of mail for post offices located in the 610 and 611 Zip Code areas. All three facilities operations run 24-hours per day, 365-days per year. The majority of the mail is processed between 5 p.m. and 4 a.m.

The Palatine P&DC facility is located at 1300 E. Northwest Highway. The facility is 629,000 sq. ft. and covers approximately 43 acres. Nearly 1,700 employees process and distribute over 5 million pieces of mail each day. During Christmas this figure almost doubles. Cook, Lake, and McHenry counties are serviced.

Automated Postal Centers

Mail packages? Indeed. Buy stamps? Of course. Extra services? Sure. Check the ZIP Code? Yes. Take credit cards? Certainly — and debit cards, too. It's easy at the Automated Postal Center (APC).

In a move to extend quick, easy and convenient access to Postal products and services when and where customers want it, the Postal Service is introducing its new self-service kiosk. The first APC was deployed in Dallas. Reports from the scene say customers are using it and loving it!

By the 2004 holiday season, there will be 2,500 APCs installed in high-traffic Post Offices throughout the nation.

FOUR GOOD CAUSES Customers and USPS show they care through semipostal

Sales. The Postal Service and its employees take active roles in important issues to build social awareness about serious topics such as Breast Cancer research, Family Violence, Heroes, and Sickle Cell These activities go hand-in-hand with the Postal Service's historic role as a community leader.

Customers have purchased more than 565 million Breast Cancer Research stamps since July 1998, raising $40.8 million for research.

The Heroes of 2001 stamp has raised $10.17 million to aid families of rescue workers affected by the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, with 124.7 million stamps sold since its issue in June 2002.

And 19 million Stop Family Violence stamps have been sold since October 2003, raising $1.3 million for Department of Health and Human Services domestic violence programs.

In September 2004 we added The Sickle Cell Disease

Awareness stamp which continues a tradition at the U.S.

Postal Service of raising public consciousness of health and social issues. Sickle cell disease is common throughout the world, and people of all races should be screened to determine if they are carriers of the inherited sickle cell trait or if they have the disease.

....DID YOU KNOW

... Use the FULL name of the City. Our scanners don't recognize city abbreviations.

...Lost and Found...post offices throughout the country have a local "loose in the mails unit." If you have lost your keys or a wallet, make your local postmaster aware of the loss and if found, we will mail you the lost item.

...Don't send cash; send a postal money order - Postal money orders can be cashed at any of our 38,000 post offices as well as banks, savings and loans, credit unions, and thousands of retail and convenience stores. So think of us before placing a gift of cash in an envelope and purchase peace of mind for as little as 90 cents.

...Postal insurance is NOT automatic on parcels you are mailing, insurance must be purchased in addition to postage.

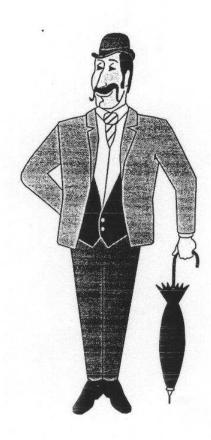

...To check on the status of a Domestic claim simply call 1-866-974-2733, listen to the prompts that will direct you to the current information on your claim.

...the Postal Service finds more books loose in the mails than any other item. If you plan to ship books it would be a good idea to place a return address sticker in each book. If an address is found within a lost book it can be returned to you immediately.

...that thousands of letters are retrieved daily by the Postal Service's two Mail Recovery Centers, for example, unpaid bills, greeting cards, important documents, etc. The most common errors found among these mail pieces are insufficient/no postage, addresses not visible through window envelopes, misspelled streets, inverted alpha letters and numbers, and no return address on the outside of the envelope. So take those extra seconds to double check your envelopes to ensure the timely and accurate delivery of your mail.

...that you cannot scotch tape stamps to your mailing envelopes, or that you cannot cut them off other envelopes and affix to another envelope? If you affix a stamp to an envelope, then change your mind, you can take the entire unmailed envelope to your local post office and exchange it for a fresh stamp.

THE BEST ADDRESSED ENVELOPE

All mail requires a complete delivery address and a return address. Studies show that up to one-third of all mail has some error or omission in the address. The Postal Service processed over 203 billion pieces of mail last year and the volume continues to grow. In one year our Mail Recovery Centers returned more than 8 million checks totaling $1.85 billion.

To process and deliver all this mail in a timely manner we have automated equipment. These computerized mail processing machines, Optical Character Readers (OCRs) and Barcode Sorters (BCSs) increase the speed, efficiency, and accuracy of processing your mail while keeping postal operating costs down. They are programmed to "read" from the bottom up in a designated "read area" for the delivery address and sort up to 36,000 pieces of mail per hour. That's 10 pieces every second.

This computerized equipment can be confused by any unnecessary printing or markings placed below the delivery address line on your envelope. To ensure correct sorting keep all other information above and as far away from the delivery address block as possible. The OCR can also be confused by sloppy handwriting, highly stylized characters, and incorrectly placed address information. You will get the best possible service if you:

- * PRINT or TYPE cursive writing can be difficult for our equipment to read.
- * Please don't use those preprinted, tiny gummed labels to address an envelope. The print is too small for our equipment to read.
- * CAPITALIZE everything in the address.
- * LEAVE OUT all punctuation, except the hyphen in the ZIP+4 Code.
- * UNIFORMLY align on the LEFT.

- * Use Black or Blue ink on a white background. (use only indelible pens)
- * Include FLOOR, SUITE, and APARTMENT NUMBERS, also DIRECTIONALS such as NORTH (N), SOUTH (S), (E), or (W).

- * Use common abbreviations found in the National Five-Digit ZIP Code or Post Office Directory, available in your local post office lobby.
- * Use correct ZIP Codes or ZIP+4 Codes. If you do not know the correct Zip Code WHEN IN DOUBT LEAVE THE ZIP CODE OFF. For ZIP Code information call our toll free 1-800-275-8777 or online at www.usps.com
- * Do not place printing or markings of any kind below the delivery address line or area.
- * If you use a dual address (street address and post office box address), the mail will be delivered to the address directly above the city, state and ZIP Code line.

WHY SHOULD I USE A ZIP CODE OR ZIP+4?

The ZIP Code is extremely important in the processing and delivery of mail. While use of the ZIP Code is voluntary, we encourage you to include it-both in your return address and in the mailing address. If you need ZIP Code information call our toll free number 1-800-275-8777 or go to our website at WWW.USPS.COM.

ZIP+4 Code helps the Postal Service to direct mail more efficiently and accurately on our Automation equipment that sorts most of the mail. It also reduces the number of handlings, decreasing the potential for human error in sorting and delivery. The use of the correct 5-digit ZIP Code will help to prevent delays. If you do not know the correct zip code – when in doubt - LEAVE THE ZIP CODE OFF.

PROPER PREPARATION OF PACKAGES

A Parcel Sorter machine now processes your packages more efficiently. Proper packaging and addressing of parcels is the best way to prevent damage and loss. Use containers strong enough to protect contents during handling and cushion the contents to make sure they do not move within the container. Be sure the address is clearly printed on one side only.

Address information should also be placed inside the container attached to the contents. Avoid using wrapping paper and strings. See your local post office for free brochures on how to pack and wrap packages or parcels. Also, your local post office has a wide variety of packaging products for sale and we supply free Express and Priority Mail boxes to assist you. Don't forget insurance, the small fee is well worth it.

PROTECTION"

We have all heard - "a picture is worth a thousand words."-

Sometimes unforeseen things can happen during mail processing and to help us get your valuables safely on their way, we need you to follow these tips for mailing.

- USE YOUR RETURN ADDRESS LABELS BY ATTACHING THEM -

- ♦ to the back of each photograph or to a roll of film -
- to articles inside your package,
- insert on the inside cover of books to ensure delivery
- and include a list of the articles inside the package.

WHAT IS THE MINIMUM SIZE FOR A MAILABLE MAILPIECE?

- * At least 3 1/2 inches high.
- * At least 5 inches long (items sent to foreign countries must be at least 5 1/2 inches long)
- * At least .007 of an inch thick (about the size of a postal card).

Mail not meeting these standards will be returned to the sender.

WHAT IS NONSTANDARD-SIZE MAIL?

FIRST-CLASS MAIL weighing one ounce or less is nonstandard if it exceeds any of the following size limits:

- * The height exceeds 6 1/8 inches, or
- * The length exceeds 11 1/2 inches, or
- * The thickness exceeds 1/4 of an inch, or
- * The length divided by the height is less than 1.3 or more than 2.5 inches.

A surcharge of $0.12, in addition to postage and fees, is assessed on each piece of nonstandard size mail. The same criteria apply to regular printed items and international letters weighing one ounce or less.

Only the U.S. Postal Service had no problem releasing its theft numbers – partly because officials are proud of its prevention and enforcement efforts. Postal inspector Robert Bethel said about 500 employees were arrested for mail theft in fiscal year 1999 – that's less than a tenth of 1 percent of its 750,000 employees. "It's such a taboo to fool with the mail," Bethel said. "Many of our tips come from postal employees because they take this commitment so seriously."

The Postal Inspection Service is the law enforcement and investigative arm of the Postal Service. You may report crimes such as mail theft, drugs in the mail, or mail fraud to your Postmaster or Inspection Service.

You can stop the mailing of unsolicited sexually-oriented advertisements to you or your minor children by filling out PS Form 1500, Application for Listing or Prohibitory Order, at your local post office. Thirty days after your name has been added to the Postal Service reference list, any mailer who sends you sexually oriented advertisements is subject to legal action by the U.S. Government.

IDENTITY THEFT - WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

A recent Federal Trade Commission survey shows more than 9.9 million people were victims of identity theft in the last year alone. In September 2003, the United States Postal Inspection Service announced the launch of "Operation: Identity Crisis," an unprecedented consumer education initiative to prevent citizens from becoming victims of identity theft. The Federal Trade Commission (FTC), The United States Secret Service, the Department of Justice and financial organizations are all partnering with the U.S. Postal Inspection Service in the campaign. The goal of this project is to arm people with information that will help them fight back against identity thieves and decrease the number of identity theft victims throughout the country.

Identity theft involves acquiring key pieces of someone's personal identifying information, such as name, address, date of birth, and social security number, in order to impersonate them. The information enables the identity thief to commit numerous forms of fraud, which include taking over the victims financial accounts; opening new bank account; purchasing homes and automobiles; applying for loans, credit cards, and social security benefits; renting apartments; and establishing service with utility and phone companies.

Identity thieves can establish new accounts in someone else's name without their knowledge. It takes an average of 12 months for victims to discover their identity has been stolen. The latest FTC survey shows last year businesses and financial institutions lost nearly $48 billion to identity theft, and consumer victims reported $5 billion in out-of-pocket expenses.

- If you think you're a victim of fraud, call your credit card issuers to close or "flag" your accounts, and call your bank to put an alert on your checking accounts.
- Shred, or tear pre-approved credit applications, credit card receipts, bills and other financial information before tossing them in the trash.
- Never give out personal information over the phone, such as your date of birth, mother's maiden name, credit card number, social security number, or bank PIN code except to someone you know or an established firm.
- Empty your wallet of extra credit cards and identification or better yet, cancel the ones you don't really use and keep a list of the ones you do use.
- Consider removing your name from the marketing lists of the two major credit reporting bureaus: TRW at 1-800-916-8800 and Equifax TransUnion at 1-888-567-8688. This reduces the number of pre-approved applications you receive in the mail.
- Order your credit report once a year to check for accuracy or fraudulent use.
- If you had checks stolen or bank accounts set up fraudulently in your name, call these check guarantee companies: Telecheck at 1-800-366-2425 and the National Processing Company at 1-800-526-5380. They can flag your file so that counterfeit checks will be refused.
- If your social security number was used fraudulently, report the problem to the Social Security Administration's Fraud Hotline at 1-800-269-0271. In extreme cases of fraud, it may be possible for you to get a new social security number.
- If you're a victim of identity theft that involves the U.S. Mail, call your nearest Postal Inspection Service office or the POSTAL INSPECTORS 24-HOUR TOLL FREE NUMBER 1- 800-654-8896, and don't forget that we're here to help.

HELLO! Mrs. Victim - I'm so glad you are at home to receive this call, are you sitting down? - Good -

"You're a winner in our $10,000 Drawing!"

SOUND FAMILIAR?...... According to government estimates, illegal telemarketing operations bilk Americans of $40 billion annually. More than half the victims are over age 50. One of the key issues is that consumers generally do not know where to turn for help with fraud.

In 1999 the US Postal Service in conjunction with the AARP, various government agencies and private industry launched a nationwide campaign called project kNOw Fraud to help consumers fight telemarketing and mail fraud. If you think you're a victim of fraud, call toll free: 1-877-987-3728 or go to the web site: www.consumer.gov/knowfraud for more information.

Project kNOw Fraud is working. Since the beginning of this hotline, the FTC has received more than 80,000 fraud-related complaints. 54% of complaints said thieves illegally used their credit cards; 26% said thieves falsely used their credit information; 16% reported raids on their checking and/or savings accounts and 11% said identity thieves used their personal information to get unauthorized loans.

The United States Postal Service, Northern Illinois District, Consumer Affairs Department shares in the concern for our seniors being victimized. We will give you some tools so you can make informed decisions regarding mail and telemarketing solicitations to avoid being hooked and victimized by deceptive offers.

If you would like us to come out to your Senior's Club please call (630) 260-5171 and a Consumer Affairs Representative will be happy to set up a date for a presentation. We show an informative 15 min. Video and each Senior receives a FREE packet of information. The entire presentation lasts 45 min. to 1 hour.

TIPS TO STOP MAIL THEFT

Thieves discover crime does pay, if it's through the mail just one stolen item undetected for months can create a mess that lingers for years. It used to be that crooks robbed banks because, as bandit Willie Sutton once said, that's where the money was.

Now the thieves are going after your mailbox. Because these days, that's where they're finding the easy loot. Thanks in part to an unsuspecting American populace, the U.S. mail has become one of the richest veins for crooks to mine. And federal authorities are scrambling to keep up with a wide variety of audacious criminals who have made mail theft a full-time occupation.

"It is probably the No. 1 type of white-collar crime in the country today," said Postal Inspector Robert Bethel, chief spokesman for the criminal investigative arm of the U.S. Postal Service in Washington, D.C. "You can be victimized and not know you're being victimized for many months," Bethel said. "Then the hammer falls. And it can take years to clear things up."

Many crooks are getting in on the scam, from speed freaks driving around at 4 in the morning, fishing letters out of personal mailboxes, to organized professionals who go for volume, stealing loads of mail on days when government assistance checks and bills are circulating. They're looking for checks, credit cards, bank account numbers and other financial information used to steal people's identities.

One reason mail theft is so alarming, authorities say, is that it takes only one stolen item -- an outgoing bill, an incoming checking account statement -- to give a thief the information he needs. Stealing mail is also becoming a preferred crime because criminals don't have to worry about police chases, bank cameras or victims who may put up a fight. "Now that people have figured out that you can do it, it's spreading like crazy," said Assistant U.S. Attorney Andrew Brown.

The spread of mail theft comes in part because the public is unsuspecting, authorities say. "The American public generally is a very trusting group of people. And a lot of times people perceive bills -- incoming and outgoing -- as having no value," Bethel said. "But they are incredibly valuable."

Federal prosecutors, postal inspectors and others familiar with mail theft say they believe it has been increasing noticeably in recent years — even though the Postal Service reports that arrests have remained steady over the last five years, at about 4,000 annually. Mail theft is a federal crime punishable by as much as five years in prison and $250,000 in fines.

Although federal authorities say it is virtually impossible to gauge the extent of mail theft, they believe there is an "exploding" new type of postal crime. Thieves are pilfering checking account numbers, which are used to print up phony checks—thanks to software programs available in any office supply store. They are also increasingly engaged in "identity takeovers," in which they create fake identities and bank accounts.

MAIL SAFETY to make it harder for thieves to steal your mail:

- ♦ Never send cash or coins in the mail. Instead, use checks or money orders.
- ♦ Make sure the mailbox is secured and in good condition. Also, your postmaster can tell you how to improve the condition of your mailbox.
- ♦ Promptly remove mail from the mailbox after delivery, especially if you are expecting checks, credit cards, food coupons or other negotiable items. If you will not be home when valuable items are expected, ask a trusted friend or neighbor to pick up your mail.
- ♦ Have your Post Office hold your mail while you are on vacation or absent from home for a long period of time.
- ♦ If you do not receive a check, food coupon or other valuable mail you are expecting, contact the issuing agency immediately.
- ♦ Immediately notify your Post Office and the people you do business with through the mail if you change your address.

- Address your mail legibly and properly. Include complete return address, including street and apartment numbers, and nine-digit ZIP code.
- ♦ Always deposit your mail in a Postal Service mail collection box or mail slot at your post office, or hand your mail to your letter carrier. Never place your outgoing mail for your carrier to pick up in an unprotected mailbox or area where it can be easily stolen.

Consider starting a Neighborhood Watch Program. By exchanging work and vacation schedules with trusted friends and neighbors, you can watch each other's mailboxes (as well as homes). If you observe a mail thief at work, or you believe your mail has been stolen, report it immediately to the police, your postmaster or nearest postal inspector.

Moving can be such a challenging experience. The U.S. Postal Service understands this and offers an online solution that can make the experience a little less stressful. The online MoversGuide on usps.com allows customers to file their changes of address directly with the Postal Service electronically and offers move-related information, products, and services essential to planning, moving and settling in to the new residence.

Using the online MoversGuide system is fast, easy, and system security is maintained at every step. Customers can submit their address changes electronically as it expedites both the address change and mail forwarding process. Approximately 44 million address changes are processed annually; however, June, July and August represent the prime moving season. Last year, nearly 30% of all address changes were submitted to the Postal Service during this three-month period.

The Postal Service currently spends in excess of $1.9 billion a year processing undeliverable as addressed mail -this is mail that cannot be delivered due to a variety of issues, including accuracy of address and forwarding information.

Additional services available on the MoversGuide site include creating a customized moving checklist, changing local and long-distance telephone service, and forwarding magazine subscriptions to avoid missing an issue. To access MoversGuide, log on to www.usps.com click on "Change Address" located on the red bar at the top of the screen.

If you are going to move or you want your mail to go to a different address, visit your local post office and pick up a PUB. 75-X, MOVER'S GUIDE or go to the USPS website http.www.usps.com.moversnet

Complete the FORM 3575 card or online, including the date you want the change to go into effect. Be sure to specify whether the change order is for the entire family or an individual. Separate cards must be submitted for each different surname and each new address. Also, if family members will be moving to different new addresses, a separate card must be submitted for each person. We encourage you to print the information as clearly as possible to ensure all information on the card is entered into our computer forwarding system accurately.

WHAT HAPPENS THEN?

A confirmation notice will be sent to both your old and new address. The notice is intended to help the mover verify the Post Office has the correct information to forward their mail. Your local Post Office then sends your change-of-address card to one of our two Computer Forwarding Units. For ZIP Codes in the 600 and 602 areas, the Computer Forwarding Unit is located at the Palatine Processing and Distribution Center, 1300 Northwest Highway, Palatine IL 60095-9703. ZIP Codes 601 and 603 are processed at the Computer Forwarding Unit located in our Carol Stream Processing and Distribution Center, 500 E Fullerton Ave., Carol Stream IL 60199-9703.

The information is then put into our Computer Forwarding System and the card is returned to the Post Office of your old address. When the carrier receives the change-of-address card back, your mail is then sent to one of the two above computer forwarding system sites to be forwarded to your new address. Because of the extra handling, the initial time frame to start your forwarding can take up to ten days; after this it usually takes a few days to reach your new address.

HOW LONG WILL MY MAIL BE FORWARDED TO MY NEW ADDRESS?

Your mail will be forward for one (1) year. Magazines are forwarded for 60 days only. Advertising mail is not forwarded. After the year is up, the mail is then returned to sender for six months with a label indicating the new address. After that time, the change is taken out of the system.

GOING TO BE AWAY TEMPORARILY?

One of the blocks on the change-of-address card asks whether your change is "permanent" or "temporary." If you check the temporary block, be sure to include the date you intend to return.

FORWARDING OF MY UNEMPLOYMENT CHECK?

Any mail that is endorsed "RETURN SERVICE REQUESTED" OR "CHANGE SERVICE REQUESTED" is not forwarded but returned to sender with your new address.

HOW CAN I GET THE NEW ADDRESS OF SOMEONE WHO HAS MOVED?

On January 21, 1994, all postal units were directed to cease researching and disclosing addresses of individuals and families, except those requested by government, law enforcement agencies, courts, and other special exception.

TYPES OF MAIL THAT ARE NOT FORWARDABLE

- Mail addressed to "Occupant" or "Postal Customer"
- Mail showing specific instructions of the sender (e.g., "Return Service Requested" or "Change Service Requested")
- Perishable items

PROPER ADDRESSING OF INTERNATIONAL MAIL

Proper addressing will ensure your mail arrives to the correct destination and into the proper hands. Besides being processed by the U.S. Postal Service, International Mail may be handled by customs officials, international transportation carriers, and foreign postal authorities.

Although there are no service standards for International airmail, it has been our experience that it takes seven to ten days for delivery of most items. Processing in the origin and destination countries constitute the majority of the time it takes to process the mail.

International mail requires the country name always stand alone on the bottom line - - (no abbreviations) and be written in English.

TAKE THE TIME TO PRINT CLEARLY AND IN THE CORRECT FORMAT SHOWN BELOW.

EXAMPLE:

MR THOMAS CLARK 117 RUSSELL DRIVE LONDON WIP6H1 ENGLAND

We recommend you purchase insurance on any item of value that you mail. As a precaution, senders should place a card showing the names and addresses of the sender and addressee inside parcels. In the event your International Mail may be delayed or lost, we suggest you complete Postal Service Form 542, "Inquiry About a Registered Article or an Insured Parcel or and Ordinary Article," at your Post Office.

The information you provide on this form will be forwarded to the appropriate International Mail exchange office here in the United States and then to the Postal Administration of the destination country.

Postal Service on Campaign to Stamp Out Illiteracy

"FREE" TO TEACHERS

POSTAL EDUCATION PROGRAM FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOL STUDENTS NOW AVAILABLE ON VIDEO!

"FREE" TO TEACHERS **********************************

A nation-wide campaign to stamp out illiteracy seems to have everyone involved including the United States Postal Service.

Since January 1996, youngsters at elementary schools within the Northern Illinois District area (those areas being served by ZIP Codes 600, 601, 602, 603, 610 and 611) are learning everything from the Pony Express to why reptiles can't be mailed. The educational program being introduced by the Consumer Affairs Department is called, Star Writers.

Christine Bzdelik, Manager Consumer Affairs at the Northern Illinois District wrote the original program eight years ago and it is now presented in a 22-minute fun-packed, fast-paced video production called, The Postal Zone.

The twenty-two minute video begins with a lively character asking kids if they ever wondered how a letter got from "here" to "here" (as he jumps from one screen standing next to a mailbox, to another which looks like Paris, France).

From there, discussions with a comical cowboy dressed in a red cowboy suit, range from the Pony Express to how machines now sort your mail. Also discussed are "weird" things that have been mailed, the three types of mail, safety, dog bites and stamp collecting.

The program ends with a fast-paced presentation of some pretty cool-looking, colorful postage stamps, like dinosaurs, space exploration, and basketball, which we specifically chose to impress the youngsters." Some of the questions we are asked by the children after our presentation are very impressive," said Christine, "and some are pretty funny. As an example, one student wanted to know how far away a mailbox had to be from the street, another little boy wanted to know if he could mail his baby brother."

"FREE" TO TEACHERS

Every school year approximately 3,000 students and over 200 teachers in both Du Page and Cook counties receive the presentation. "The Star Writers program has really taken off, which shows us there is a definite need to be filled," said Ms. Bzdelik.

"We think the Star Writers, Postal Zone video program is a very useful learning tool for the students," said Christine. Star Writers is just one example of the ways the Postal Service within the Northern Illinois District is working to help achieve literacy.

We add special attention to our presentations during October which is National Stamp Collecting month and April which is National Letter Writing month.

If you are an elementary school teacher located within the following ZIP Code areas (600,601,602,603,610 or 611), please contact the Northern Illinois District Consumer Affairs Department at (630) 260-5171 and we will be happy to provide you with more information about our program.
